School of Advanced Studies on Language and Society: Mobility, Multilingualism and Globalization

Some relationships and implications from a marginal linguistic and sociopolitical landscape

21.08.2015

Mobility

(Im)mobility in Discourse

textualized discourse

postcolonial Corsica
Prof. JAFFE

eurocentric sociolinguistic and sociocultural disorder
Prof. VIGOUROUX

transnational migration

trajectories
emplacements
stance taking

translocal communicable cartographies
Prof. BRIGGS

multiscalar (im)mobilities positionalities into power saturated settings proliferation of literate gatekeepers

Chronotopes: discursive imbrication of place and time indexicalization

iconization
symbolization

Reconceptualization of place, social identity, communicative competence and cultural belonging

Globalization

Local/Global

scalar temporalization/spatialization/subjectivation

postcolonial Corsica
Prof. JAFFE

space-time compression
commodification

Compru in corsu
tourism industry

eurocentric sociolinguistic
and sociocultural disorder
Prof. VIGOUROUX

global/local communicable cartographies
Prof. BRIGGS

geographic, cultural and political borders digital communication technologies:

networking, augmented reality, database, etc.

post-human communication

global war 'metapragmatic' models of production/circulation technologies of production/circulation

relational multiscalar positionalities

Multilingualism

Transidioma

eurocentric sociolinguistic
and sociocultural disorder
Prof. VIGOUROUX

postcolonial Corsica
Prof. JAFFE

authenticity → universalization biological construction → reflexivity authority → language ideologies voice and legitimacy → mediatized agency transidiomatic practices transidiomatic spaces (borders) de-reterritorialized speakers

translocal communicable cartographies
Prof. BRIGGS

communicable semiotic models mediation mediatization fetishization

A question to "everyone"

How to incorporate issues of race, gender, social class, literacy and non verbal language to our theoretical and methodological models? Or are we happy with the theoretical and methodological tools available to analyse the complexities of contemporary life from our positionalities in the world?

School of Advanced Studies on Language and Society: Mobility, Multilingualism and Globalization

Some relationships and implications from a marginal linguistic and sociopolitical landscape

21.08.2015

Mobility

Mobility

(Im)mobility in Discourse

textualize entextualized ethnography entextualized mediatization

What about the image? the non verbal signs?

Discourse

↓

textualized discourse

Relational approach

Place

postcolonial Corsica

Prof. JAFFE

trajectories

emplacements

stance taking

stance taking

Chronotopes: discursive imbrication of place and time translocal communicable cartographies

Prof. BRIGGS

indexica iconizat symboliz

indexicalization

iconization

symbolization

eurocentric sociolinguistic and sociocultural disorder

Prof. JACQUEMET

transnationa

ral disorder

Prof. JACQUEMET

transnational migration

multiscalar (i

al migration

multiscalar (im)mobilities
positionalities into power saturated settings
proliferation of literate gatekeepers

multiscalar (im)mobilities

positionalities into power saturated settings

proliferation of literate gatekeepers

Reconceptualization of place, social identity, communicative competence and cultural belonging

Relational approach

Place
Scale
Networks
Positionalities

postcolonial Corsica

Prof. JAFFE

authenticity → authentification ideological construction → reflexivity

authority → language ideologies voice and legitimacy → meditatized agency translocal communicable cartographies

Prof. BRIGGS

communicable

eurocentric sociolinguistic and sociocultural disorder

Prof. JACQUEMET

transidiomatic practices
transidiomatic spaces (borders)

de-reterritorialized speakers

Globalization

Local/Global

Local/Global

↓

scalar temporalization/ spatialization/subjectifation

postcolonial Corsica

Prof. JAFFE

space-time compression

commodification

Compru in corsu

tourism industry

eurocentric sociolinguistic and sociocultural disorder

Prof. JACQUEMET

geographic, cultural and political borders

digital communication technologies:
networking, augmented reality, database, etc

post-human communication

spatialization/subjectifation

global/local communicable cartographies
Prof. BRIGGS

global war 'metapragmatic' models of productior technologies of producti

global/local communicable cartographies
Prof. BRIGGS

global war 'metapragmatic' models of production/circulation

technologies of production/circulation

relational multiscalar positionalities

A question to "everyone"

How to incorporate issues of race, gender, social class, literacy and non verbal language to our theoretical and methodological models? Or are we happy with the theoretical and methodological tools available to analyse the complexities of contemporary life from our positionalities in the world?

School of Advanced Studies on Language and Society: Mobility, Multilingualism and Globalization

Some relationships and implications from a marginal linguistic and sociopolitical landscape

21.08.2015